His fellow students in the American College will celebrate a solemn requiem mass for him in St Stephen's Church on Monday, June, at ten o'clock A. M.

Rev. Francis Martin.

The last European mail brought an account of the death of the Rev. Francis Martin, late assistant pastor of St. James' Roman Catholic church in this city. The sad event took place at Letterkenny, county Donegal, Ireland, where Father Martin had gone with the hope that his native air would improve his health. Father Martin was rn in 1839, at Letterkenny, and was at an early age destined by his parents for the priesthood. He studied the classics under the direction of the most velebrated teachers in the north of Ireland, and in due course entered the College of Maynooth, where he soon became distinguished for his plety and application to study. He came to America in 1866, and two years later was ordained a priest of the archdiocese of New York. The church of the Holy Innocents was the scene of his first missionary labors. His great missionary zeal acught a wider field, and he was transferred to st. James! Here Father Martin was untring in his studied the classics under the direction of the sought a wider field, and he was transferred to St. James'. Here Father Martin was untring in his efforts to reclaim the erring and minister to the spiritual wants of his parishioners. He overworked himself and literally ioli a victim to duty. In the spring of 1872 he had a severe attack of hemorrhage of the himse, which brought on consumption. By the advice of his physician he returned to Ireland last November, and there, on the 13th inst. he peacefully died.

Judge Charles H. Doolittle

The saddening intelligence was received yester-day in Utica from Queenstown, Ireland, that Judge Charles H. Doolittle, of the Supreme Court of this State, and a resident of Utica, was lost at sea from State, and a resident of Utica, was lost at sea from the steamsnip Abyssinia on the 21st inst. No details of the occurrence were forwarded, and its cause can only be conjectured. Judge Doolittle was going to Europe on a short vacation in search of health. When his death occurred he had only been at sea one day, as the Abyssinia sailed on the 20th inst. Judge Doolittle was elected to the Supreme Court of this state (Pitth district) on the republican ticket, and his term would have expired December 31, 1877. His death leaves another vacancy to be filled by the Governor.

THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

The Question of the Successor of the Late President Thomson.
PHILADELPHIA, May 30, 1874.

There are a great many rumors on the street in relation to the Pennsylvania Railroad, but I am enabled to state that the directors have no other object in view at present than to pay their respects to the dead, and hence the stories affort that an immediate election is to take place are without immediate election is to take place are without foundation. That interest is felt in the matter on the other side of the water is evident from the fact that a prominent banking house has received a cable despatch from London inquiring concerning it, but at present there is no telling when the new President will be chosen.

This morning the Pennsylvania Railroad Company began the payment, at the general office, at Fourth and Willing's alley, of the semi-annual dividend of five per cent, clear of taxes. On Monday the company will begin the payment of the dividend to all stockhoiders, in the order in which they call; also the interest on the bonds of the Camden and Amboy Railroad Company of 1889, and on the first mortgage bonds of the Belvidere and Delaware Railroad Company.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 30, 1874. The first criminal trial for violating the railroad iaw of this State took place yesterday. The station agent of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad nad been arrested for charging more than the tegal rate for tickets, tried, found guilty and fined El.

Gilmore gave a very attractive concert at the Twenty-second regiment armory last night, at which selections from Rossini, Balle, Meyerbeer, Flotow, Mendelssohn and Handel were rendered in a very creditable manner. After the concert came a hop of the most enjoyable description. The last three performances of the season at paly's Fifth Avenue Theatre are to be given on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. To-morrow night "Love's Labor's Lost" is to be reproduced; on Tuesday, "Charity," and on Wednesday, "Monsieur Alphonse." After each of these plays there is to be an additional entertainment. It is certainly a pleasant thing that Frank Kerns and Johnny Thompson are to meet to-morrow night after a severance for ten years. We do not know what has kept these gentlemen apart for so long a time; but, anyhow, we are glad that it is done away with. The repellent motive must be conjectured as something awful, else the Theatre Comique managers would not so widely spread the announcement that it has ceased to act.

"Fate" is to be produced at Wallack's to-morrow night to open the summer season at that theatre. This play is the production of Mr. Bartley Campbell, a dramatist whose work has not yet been passed upon by New York audiences. must not be prejudged, but it is certain that the topics of the acts, as advertised, do not declare that there is much originality in it. It is hoped that they are bad indicators. Miss Carlotta Le Clercq is to play the heroine in "Fate."

It is an unpleasant duty to task a young actor with breaches of propriety, even though they are of the most glaring kind. We cannot, however, pass over the negligence of the performer at Niblo's who wishes to appear like the Malcolm Graeme whom Scott drew, without troubling himself to read the Wizard's description of the young Scottish noble. In the poem Malcolm's hair is described as

What is known as the bad season for theatres have already closed. Wallack's, Booth's and the Metropolitan theatres closed last night. During the coming week several other establishments will end their regular seasons. In Brooklyn the theatres have suffered from a remarkable apathy on the part of theatre-goers. Mrs. Conway's Theatre has had a miserable season, though most of the performances there would have graced any metro-politan theatre. The new Park Theatre has done newhat better with the aid of popular "stars" and minstrel companies. It still remains open, and Schumann's Transatiantic Novelty Company will occupy it during this week.

Mr. J. B. Booth gave up the management of Booth's Theatre with the conclusion of its regular season last night. His career was checkered like that of his predecessor in the management of the institution. Mr. McCullough's performances wound up the season in a way that prevents the comment that it feenly flickered out to be passed upon Booth's as upon other moribund theatres. Booth's Theatre, however, is to be revived. Temporarily Mr. Maurice Grau will, with Salvini, try to infuse life into it. The Italian tragedian will appear at the theatre on Monday, the 8th inst., and throughout the following week. Alterward the agents of Messrs. Jarrett & Palmer will take charge of the theatre to prepare it for the next season, which, they say, is to be full of great things. A revival of Shakespearian plays is projected for the beginning of the season, in which Miss Charlotte Cushman and Mr. George Vandenhoff are to take part. After these Mr. Joseph Jefferson, it is underin another character than Rip Van Winkle. Finally, Messra, Jarrett & Palmer will bring on the "noted foreign artists," whom they are said to be engaging during their present European tour.

THE LOSS OF THE NIORE.

She Encounters a Fog and Goes Ashore-But One Man Lost-The Crew Stripping the Vessel-Sketch of Her Career. HALIPAX, N. S., May 30, 1874.

The following are the particulars respecting the loss of Her Majesty's steamer Niobe, on Cape Blanc, Island of Miquelon:-

Blanc, Island of Miquelon:—

The Niobe left Halifax for St. Pierre, intending to communicate with the French naval officer at that place before proceeding on a fishing cruise. A thick fog was experienced the whole passage, and the consequence was she was unable to reach St. Pierre Roads. On the 20th Inst. she came to anchor on the west side of Sandy Neck, joining the Great and Little Miquelon Islands; but finding the anchorage not a desirable one, and from the state of the weather thinking it possible, notwithstanding the fog. to reach Miquelon Roads, or even St. Pierre, by rounding the north end of the Miquelon Islands, commander Boyle ordered anchor weighed and steamed northward, keeping the land in sight and being apparently on the edge of the log bank, which was denser scaward. At about ten minues past nine A. M. BREAKERS WERE REPORTED AHRAD.

The screw was stopped and reversed, but the ship soon after struck on Cape Blanc, on the north side of Miquelon Island, and owing to the heavy sea soon became a total wreck. The boats were immediately got out and all hands, but one who was unfortunately drowned in landing, were salely lauded by hali-past six o'clock P. M. the same day. Three men were washed out of a boat by the sea, two of whom reached the shore, the other, referred to above, being drowned.

At the time the Woodlark left the Niobe had fallen over and had water in her up to her lower deck beam. The crew are still at Miquelon Island stripping the vessel and saving everything possible. They are all well housed and have been provisioned.

The Niobe was about eight years old and was the vessel which, under the command of Sir Lambton Loraine, stopped the massacre of the Virginius prisoners at Santiago de Cuba.

THE BROKEN RESERVOIR.

A Contractor Admits the Truth of the Charges Against the Dam-He Did Not Know Why Conscience Should Prevent Him-No Recollection of Seeing Hard Pan in Course of the Work. NORTHAMPTON, Mass., May 30, 1874.

The inquest of the Mill River disaster was resumed this morning. Joel Hayden, son of the late ex-Lieutenant Governor Hayden, and a member of the firm of Hayden, Gere & Co., tes-tified that he had no personal knowledge of the condition of the dam. He had known of his tather's getting up in the night to drive to the reservoir, a distance of five miles. He had no personal knowledge of his father's reason for so doing, and thought his father had no more fear for the safety of this dam than for any other, and presumed that he visited it as he would visit the mill just across the road to guard against and presumed that he visited it as he would visit the mili just across the road to guard against fire.

Mr. Bassett, the contractor, was recalled, and the questioner and the jury having visited the dam yesterday, put such searching questions to the witness that he was compelled to admit the truth of all the charges made against the dam, and show that even the vague specifications were not adhered to. He admitted that he himself and his partner had entered on the work in the belief that the dam might give way, even if built according to the specifications. He had realized that if it did property and lives would be endangered, and yet he had accepted the bargain and had not protested against it. Had it not been for the extra expense made by the change of the pipe they would have made about $8,000, the whole amount received from the job being less than $24,000; he did not know why conscience should have prevented them: If the dam had to be built they might as well build it as anybody.

Henry Bush, who was employed in clearing the bed of the embankment, and E. A. Burham, employed in laying the stone, then testified, the latter having no recollection of seeing hard pan in the course of the work.

John W. Beicher testified to making repairs on the reservoir and dam on various occasions, in a superficial way, and that the opinion was generally entertained that the dam was insecure.

Engineer Henry W. Wilson testified to the weakness of the dam, condimining the opinions in that respect expressed by other expert witnesses.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC NOTES. WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 30, 1874. The House Appropriation Committee on the Postal Telegraph Question.

The House Committee on Appropriations find hemselves compelled, in view of the near approach of the adjournment of Congress to notify he counsel for the Western Union Telegraph Company that the committee cannot give them further oral hearing on the postal telegraph question, but will carefully consider any briefs that may be sub-mitted. It is not considered at all probable, how-ever, that action will be taken on this subject by the committee this session. The Conference Committee on the Financial Bill.

The Conference Committee on the Finance bill held a long session to-day, but adjourned until Monday without coming to a conclusion on any point. They, however, discussed the situation, including the President's position. Several of them intimated that it would be well to avoid, if osaible, the passage of any bill which would be vetoed. One of the members of the committe expressed the opinion to a private citizen that it did not seem probable any finance bill would be passed this session.

THE CROWING CROPS.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30, 1874. The National Crop Reporter, published to-day, gives returns from 198 correspondents, covering 125 counties, in the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Mis sissippi and Texas, in relation to the area planted counties, in the States of Alsbama, Arkansas, Mississippi and Texas, in relation to the area planted this season in cotton and corn in those States. Deductions are also published from estimates of correspondents in relations to the total of spring and winter wheat now in the ground in the States of Illinois, Indians, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missourt, Ohio and Wisconsin.

The following is an abstract of the principal information furnished in the matter of cotton:—There is shown a falling off from the area planted last year averaging in the four States first named 14 6-10 per cent. The decrease in area is 18 4-10 per cent in Alabama, 9 4-10 per cent in Arkansas, 20 4-10 per cent in mississippi and 5-2-10 per cent in Texas. The area devoted to corn in the same is placed at an increase over last year to the extent of 97-10 per cent. The increase is given as 10 4-10 per cent in Alabama, 9 4-10 per cent in Arkansas, 18 per cent in Mississippi and 5-2-10 per cent in Arkansas, 18 per cent in Mississippi and Tennessee, and 6-10 per cent in Texas. The stand of both cotton and corn in the Skates pamed was, May 15, much below a full stand, although the stand of corn was better than that of cotton, in Louisiana the majority of the reports received speak of a considerable portion of the land as overflowed. In all the four States the lateness of the season very much delayed operations, and although much of the replanting which became the season very much delayed operations, and atthough much of the replanting which became neces: "y had been accomplished, at the date of the reports there will still be a good deal of land lying idle.

the reports there will still be a good deal of land lying fide.

The estimates of correspondents in the eight Western States previously mentioned indicate an average increase in the total area of wheal of $2.10 per cent. The increase is 14 per cent in liminas, 13.10 per cent in Indiana, 18.5-10 per cent in lowa, 24 per cent in Kansas, 18.5-10 per cent in Minnesota, 17.4-10 per cent in Missouri, 5 per cent in Obio and 44-10 per cent in Missouri. The general condition of the growing grain at the date of the last report was all that could be desired, although the crop in lowa has suffered somewhat from the deprodations of grasshoppers.
